STATUTES OF INDIANA.

GAVIN & HORD'S REVISION. The second volume of Messrs Gavin & Hord's compiletion of Indiana Sta utes has just appeared. This volume complete- their work. Its mechanical execution is ver creditable; and the skill, learning, and labor which the editors have bestowed on it, merit the high at praise. None but learned, diligent lawyers could have produced

Indiana now in force upon the subjects to which it relates. and the first all excepting the acts of the last regular and extra sessions of the Legislature. It is a great excellence of the compilation that all existing statutes on each subject are collected together in the same place in these volumes; so that t e reader can see at a g'ance all the legislation in force on any given subject. Take, for example, the act of 1852, organizing Courts of Common Pleas-the editors publish the act at large, and they also print, in the form of notes on the same page containing this statute, all the acts amendatory to it which have been passed up to this time. And so they have done of all the other acts contained in the revision of 1852. The editors have added much to the value of these volumes-especially the last-by the copious and learned notes with which the volumes abound. These notes indicate much labor and legal acumen. They furnish us, in a concise and accurate form, with all the ad udications of our Supreme Court on these statutes. These adjudications being now very numerous, the references to them in the volumes under consideration, will be of great value to the lawyer, and indeed to all persons concerned in the administra ion o' justice. The editors have also referred, n their notes, to numerous decisions in other States, made on statutes similar to ours. An excellence of these volumes, not to be overlooked is the full and accurate index appended to each. In Indiana, there never has been a good index to any volumes of the best style of the art. Particular attention paid to An excellence of these volumes, not to be overlooked statutes published by authority. This provoking defect has been completely remedied in the volumes under review; and these indexes will greatly lighten the labor of all who have occasion to look into our statutes.

This is the first time that private enterprize has attempted the publication of Indiana statutes. The at tempt, I do not doubt, will be successful, and will duly reward the learned editors and enterprizing publishers. Every lawyer will, of course, purchase these volumes; and every clerk, sheriff, and justice of the peace of the State, will find it to his advantage to own them. DAVID M'DONALD. BILLS OF LADING, Indianapolis, June 5, 1862

The oregoing notice by Judge McDonald, of Gavis & Hono's Compilation of the Statutes of Indiana, is not designed as a puff of the work, but is an unsolicited commendation of the ability, accuracy, and completeness with which these volumes have been prepared. The second volume, which has just been issued from the pross, is being delivered to subscribers as rapidly as possible. This edition of the statutes will be found a necessity to every lawyer, justices of the peace, and county officers in the State. The publication of the work is a private enterprize, and the publishers' only hope for remuneration is in its sale to those for whose convenience it was prepared. The two volumes contain about 1600 pages of matter, nearly double the quantity embraced the revision of 1852. The price of the work is $4 50 per volume, or $9 00 for the two volumes. Orders addressed to the subscriber wil J. J. BINGHAM. receive prompt attention. June 7th, 1862. Indianapolis, Ind.
